

MYTH - A - LOGIC

Zeus sent Hermes, his winged messenger, with luncheon invitations to welcome Persephone back from the Underworld. Each guest was to bring a special gift to the luncheon. Alas, Hermes mixed up everything! Help Hermes to seat guests using your knowledge of mythology and the clues below. Then in the matrix below, determine which gift each person brought. The guests are:

Apollo Demeter Dionysis Eros Persephone Hera Iris Zeus

They sit at a banquet table. Seat them in the correct order. The Greek names are given.

Clues:

1. Demeter sat to the right of her daughter.
2. The one who brought arrows sat at the end.
3. Zeus sat between Demeter and his wife.
4. The guest who brought wine sat next to Persephone.
5. The one who brought the rainbow chatted with Eros.
6. The god who played the lyre preferred an end seat.
7. Each guest received a peacock feather from the person next to Apollo.
8. The guest of honor brought flowers.
9. The host had a thunderbolt behind his chair.
10. The youngest god sat next to Iris.
11. Demeter provided the vegetables for the meal.

Guest ↓	Gifts →	Flowers	Lyre	Thunder- bolt	Peacock feather	Rainbow	Wine	Veggies	Arrows
Apollo
Demeter
Dionysis
Eros
Persephone
Hera
Iris
Zeus									