Students will have their own copy of the book so that they can use their reading strategies. Students having a copy of the book will help them have conversations with their peers to collaborate on their reading. For struggling readers it is necessary for them to follow along as we are reading. The teacher will conduct a guided reading of Number the Stars as we study WWII and the holocaust in 6th Grade Social Studies. The historical fiction novel will allow students to make text to self connections about what children their ages might have experienced during this time period, as well as engage them in learning about the historical events that have led up to, happened during, and after the war. The ability for each student to have a copy of the book will allow for them to follow along during guided reading, go back into the text to support their thinking with text evidence and allow them to be able to mark parts of the text that evoke reactions with post it notes.
